Repayment Plan Options. Assistance is available to help you lower or postpone your monthly student loan payments using a different repayment plan, deferment, or forbearance. You may be eligible for one or more of the following repayment plans: Standard, Graduated, Extended, Income-Based, Income-Sensitive, Income-Contingent, Pay As You Earn, or Revised Pay As You Earn. To explore options or make changes that could help you avoid default, call us at 866.264.9762 or log in to your account at www.OSLA.org. You can also visit the U.S. Department of Education's website at StudentAid.ed.gov to review solutions, including consolidation, to keep your student loans up to date.

Authorization for Electronic Debit. If you provide us with a check as payment, you authorize us to either use information from your check to make a one-time electronic transfer from your account or process the payment as a check transaction. When we use information from your check to make an electronic fund transfer, funds may be withdrawn from your account as soon as the same day we receive your payment, and you will not receive your check back from your financial institution. Payments returned due to non-negotiable funds may be re-attempted a maximum of one time.

Extra Payments. Paying off your student loans sooner is easy at <https://Public.OSLA.org>. When you pay more than the minimum amount due, you can direct the extra amount to specific loan groups. You may also request one-time or recurring special payment instructions via phone, email, or mail (including your account number) using our correspondence address: P.O. Box 18475, Oklahoma City, OK 73154-0475. If you plan to pursue Public Service Loan Forgiveness, visit StudentAid.ed.gov/PublicService for more information regarding prepayments and how they are counted as qualifying payments.

Due Date Advancement: While your student loans are in repayment, each time you satisfy a loan group's monthly payment amount, we will automatically advance your next payment due date by one month, unless you submit special instructions to not advance your due date.

Payment Allocation. Payments are first applied to any past due student loan groups. Loan groups with the oldest delinquency will be paid first. If you do not pay the total amount due, your partial payment will be prorated based on each loan group's regular monthly payment amount. Every loan group may become delinquent or be reported to the consumer reporting agencies. You could also lose eligibility for borrower benefits or repayment incentives.

Once all loan groups are current, payments are prorated across loan groups in an active repayment status according to their monthly payment amounts. After your current amount due is satisfied, or if no payment is due (for example, if your loans are not yet in repayment), your payment will be allocated across the loan groups, with prorated allocations based on each loan group's accrued interest and regular monthly payment amount. Once a portion of your payment is allocated for a particular loan group, payments will be applied automatically to your principal balance after all outstanding interest is paid.

Why Is My Payment $0? If you receive a statement for $0 due, it means you have paid more than your monthly payment amount in the past to fully cover this month's payment and no payment is due, or your current repayment plan requires no payment at that time. You can always pay more, without penalty, which will reduce your total cost of borrowing and save you money in the long run.

If you are not required to make a payment for your loan groups during this month, you won't be considered past due if you don't make a payment or pay less than your regular monthly payment amount. However, we encourage you to continue paying as much as you can, because interest continues to accrue on any remaining principal balance. Paying down your loan groups as quickly as possible will save you money in the long run.

Why Is The Amount Due Different Than It Usually Is? Your amount due may be higher than usual if your payment last month did not cover the total amount due, your lower repayment plan has expired, or you are on a plan that increases your payment amount incrementally.

Interest Calculation. Interest on your account is calculated using simple interest. Interest will accrue daily based on your outstanding balance and the number of days between payments.

Payment Schedule. Did you know you can find more details about your student loan on our website, including your current repayment plan and schedule of repayment? Create an account or log in to your account at www.OSLA.org to access your student loan information, or call 866.264.9762.
